Genoa connections

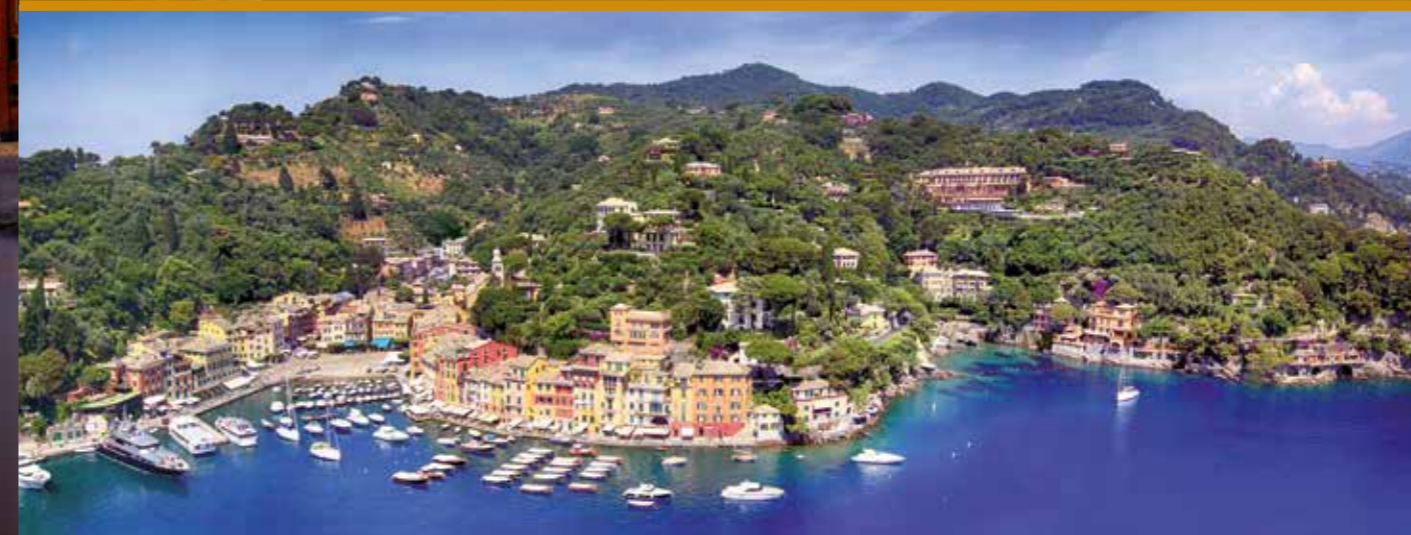

Welcome to Genoa

Genoa is a charming city in Liguria, heart of the Italian Riviera, one of the most picturesque and beautiful regions of Italy, with a wealth of sports and activities all year round.

Flaubert declared that Genoa, Italy's largest sea port, had "a beauty that tears the soul".

Over the last twenty years, the city has shaken off its gritty port town identity, replacing it with that of an authentic and modern coastal metropolis.

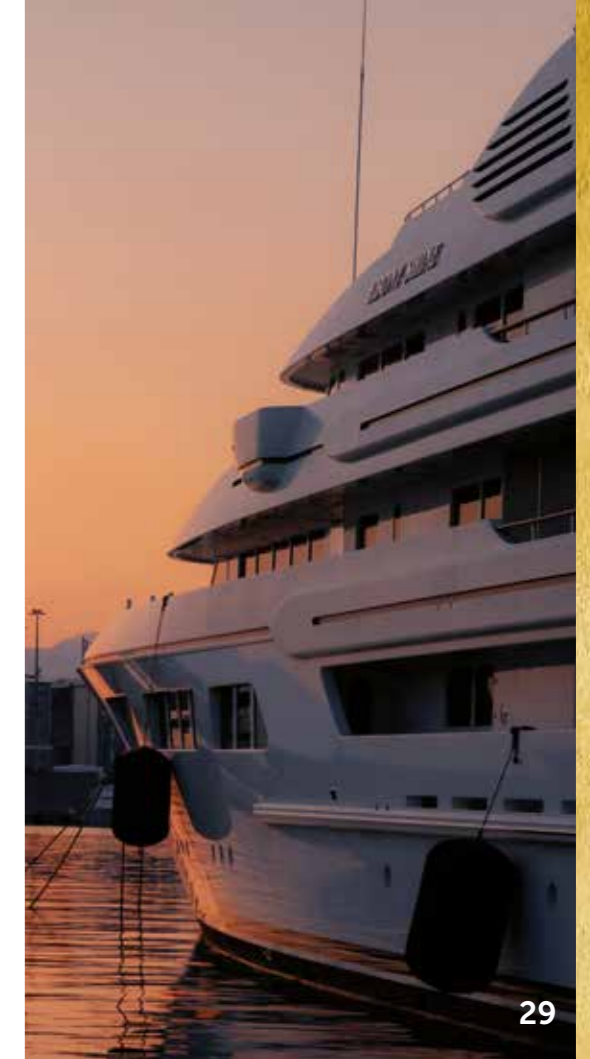

Make Genoa your homeport

Waterfront Marina is just a few minutes' walk from the heart of Italy's fifth largest city, bustling with life and living a new renaissance since it was European city of culture in 2004.

Home to the Genoa Boat show, the well known venue, with many centuries of nautical tradition in terms of vessel construction, repairs and trade, over the last thirty years Genoa has evolved specifically to meet the needs of the large yacht sector.

A cluster of specialized companies dealing almost exclusively with superyachts has emerged, able to provide every kind of service required on board.

A great destination

any time of year

Follow @genoasuperyachthub, a project by Amico & Co and Pesto Sea Group, to better know what Genoa has to offer - the world class superyacht services, its hidden treasures, the fact that it is a UNESCO heritage city, its ideal location for reaching a variety of different scenery, from beaches to world famous ski resorts, stunning renowned cities like Milan, Florence or Venice, as well as picturesque gems like Portofino and the Cinque Terre.

Proximity to one of the world's leading refit centres

Just metres from Amico & Co, a global leader in yacht refitting and maintenance, you can choose to pair a berthing stay with crew and contractor works in Waterfront Marina with Amico & Co's refit expertise, in particular with the large yacht facilities, including dry-docks and 4000T ShipLift, together with in-house departments. “

*It's not just the parts that make a hub,

What makes Amico & Co different from other refit hubs is the way that it uses its large yacht facilities and expert knowhow together, combining them with all of the superyacht capabilities and resources available in Genoa city and in the Liguria region. As we say, it's not just the parts that make a hub – it's how they're put together.

The new Genoa Waterfront

TAKE A WORLD-FAMOUS ARCHITECT

Renzo Piano, who designed the Georges Pompidou centre in Paris, London's Shard and New York's Whitney Museum, has designed a new blueprint for his native city, restoring a view of the sea to its people.

AND ADD A BEAUTIFUL HARBOURSIDE CITY

By demolishing a series of built-up spaces, new navigable canals will be created parallel to the coast, with a width of between 40 and 60 metres, allowing pleasure craft to cruise the entire length of the seafront.

The new Genoa Waterfront

Genoa is evolving as the government invests in infrastructure, developing a new waterfront called the Waterfront di Levante.

The world-famous architect Renzo Piano, who designed the Georges Pompidou centre, the Shard and the Whitney museum just to name a few, has designed the blueprint for this new project to restore the sea view to the city. The Waterfront di Levante will be ready for Spring 2023 and is currently one of the most remarkable urban developments nationally in Italy.

"We are aiming to bring the sea back to an urban area that will have trade show zone, nautical workshops, residential spaces and a strategic place for sports"

Marco Bucci, Genoa City Mayor

A NEW BOARDWALK

There will be a "Passeggiata a mare" or what the French call "promenade", a boardwalk along the water to provide an urban but nautical experience to pedestrians.

URBAN PARK

The urban park covering almost 16,000 m² and more than 2,000 trees is a connecting element between the city and the port, between the historic walls and the new modern water front canals.

THE PALASPORT

The sports hall is designed for CONI homologation in order to host the top series of all indoor sports and accommodate large events, shows and concerts, with a thematic commercial district on the ground floor open to the public.

The development will be completed by a student housing complex, waterfront residences and office and workshop space.
